OCTOBER 1976 EDITION

NEWSLETTER OF THE AMATEUR ASTRONOMERS ASSOCIATION OF PRINCETON

The next meeting of the Amateur Astronomers Association of Princeton will be held on Tuesday, October 12, in Room A-07 in Jadwin Hall. The informal slide-discussion meeting starts at 7:30 p.m., and the lecture will follow at approximately 8:00.

Our speaker this month is Dr. Joe Silk from the Institute for Advanced Study. His topic will be "Cosmology." Our informal pre-meeting dinner will be held at the Prime Rib located on Route 1 at 5:45 p.m.

In addition to a very interesting lecture, there will be some observatory business to discuss, and your support and ideas are needed.

OBSERVING SESSIONS

The New Jersey State Museum has begun a series of public Star Parties, held each Friday night through November 19, 1976. The plan is to meet at the Planetarium located on W. State Street, at 7:30 p.m. If the weather is clear, the group will proceed to the Nature Center at Washington Crossing State Park, where there will be a variety of telescopes available for celestial observing. In the event of unfavorable weather, a show will be given at the Planetarium.

AAAP members are invited to bring themselves, their telescopes, and their friends to these sessions. For further information, call Dick Peery: (609) 292-6333 (N. J. State Museum Planetarium).
