

Night Skies at the Crossing

Experience a free tour of the night sky

with the Amateur Astronomers Association of Princeton

Simpson Observatory at Washington Crossing State Park is open to the public on clear Friday evenings from April through October.

Follow the Amateur Astronomers Association of Princeton on Facebook for Public Night updates on Friday afternoons.

Before you go, get directions to the observatory in Titusville, NJ at princetonastronomy.org/public\_nights
Do not use the front gate to the park!

All are welcome. Free to attend!

*Amateur Astronomers
Association of Princeton*

princetonastronomy.org

Our Primary Telescopes

- 6.25-inch, f/15 vintage Hastings-Byrne achromatic refractor
- 14-inch, research-grade, Celestron f/11 Schmidt-Cassegrain reflector
- 10-inch Takahashi Dall-Kirkham Cassegrain reflector

Check out our real-time video capabilities which let us see beyond visual observing at the eyepiece!